

INTRODUCTION.

Research communication is a skill involving reading, ideation, habitual writing, analyzing and fast dissemination of findings. It is a learnable, productive and essential skill for any academician or professional. Of late, the need for publication has become essential for professional development and offering quality education to students.

Although the need has been there, many are finding it difficult to publish their research due to lack of awareness of quality journals, time, resources and absence of writing culture in the era of digital communication. In order to inculcate the zeal and practice of overcoming the hurdles and encourage action research, the Department of English in association with GVP - Prof. V. Lakshmikantham Institute of Advanced Studies is organizing a one week workshop for the PG and PhD students during 04 - 10, Dec, 2023.

About the Institution.

The Gayatri Vidya Parishad College of Engineering has a 5000 strong contingent of students pursuing quality and skill oriented education. The college is established by 'Gayatri Vidya Parishad'(GVP), a non-profitable organization comprising of noted educationists and eminent philanthropists who have a missionary zeal to provide quality technical education. The college is one of the most- preferred self-financing engineering colleges in Andhra Pradesh and at present offers 10 B.Tech. Programs, 9 M.Tech. and one MCA Program approved by AICTE. The college has brought in many initiatives for the benefit of students with autonomous status granted by UGC in 2009 and extended up to 2025. The institute has been reaccredited second time by NAAC with 'A' grade with CGPA of 3.47/4.0. All the eligible seven B.Tech. programs are accredited by NBA at least twice. The institute received funds to the tune of Rs. 5 Crores under Technical Education Quality Improvement Program (TEQIP), S.C-1.2. The college received Rs. 12 Crores from funding organizations AICTE / DST / NBHM / ARB etc. towards 45 R&D projects.

Dept of English

The Department of English was started in 1996. It has nine faculty members—two professors and seven assistant professors. The faculty members of the department have been active in Research and Development activities and attending national and international conferences/workshops/FDPs in and around the country. At present the department has been catering to the needs of B. Tech. M. Tech. and MCA courses. It endeavors to integrate the humanistic values with academic learning through introduction of relevant and innovative syllabus.

VISION OF THE DEPARTMENT

- To be a Center of High Quality Education and Research in improving English communication skills of the students.

MISSION OF THE DEPARTMENT

- To impart high quality education and enhance students' English communication skills to meet the upcoming needs by introducing concurrent trends in curriculum and through collaborative industry-institute interaction.
- To mould the students into responsible citizens with social, ethical and environmental awareness.
